2024 TRENDS

Designed for Good

We design for good. We are inspired to create products that are thoughtfully crafted to reflect how we live, work and play. We do this while embracing what we truly value to provide products that forge a better way—products that promote the reduction of single use plastics, are made with recycled materials or are made with materials from renewable resources.

Each year, our design team conducts extensive research to unearth emerging cultural and design trends to create and curate products that are smart, functional and relevant for the demands of today's dynamic lifestyle. Our team partners with brands and innovates products that are socially responsible to ignite a positive impact on the world around us.
